THE OLMOS

1953

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF

ALAMO HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

After working all year on this annual, we take pleasure in presenting to you the finished product — the 1953 Olmos. It is to the staff that I express my gratitude and appreciation for their diligent and constant work which has made the completion of this task possible.

We hope this volume of events and happenings will serve as a reminder of the good times you experienced. If, when you pick up this book now and then, you will recall your glorious days in high school, the unforgettable friends you made, and the many hours you spent studying, then our work will not have been in vain.

We have chosen as our theme "Night and Day", as a record of the events of the day — school and club work — and of the night — basketball and football, dances and parties. Night and day you are a part of Alamo Heights, and even years after you become alumni, we hope you will continue to be a part of it, in heart and spirit.

IN MEMORIAM

Like a poem or a prayer, the influence of loved ones lingers. The death of our friends and classmates, Elba Briggs Shepard and John David Meyer, saddens us. To give up someone that we love dearly is a task to which we are not yet adjusted. We can only say that their memory is as bright as their individual personalities were — glowing and unforgettable. Our only comfort was, and still is, that we were able to call these two boys our close companions. To honor them is beyond our power, but to pay tribute to their memory is our endeavor.

The Season in Review

The Alamo Heights Mules started their 1952-53 basketball rally in fine style with a hard fought victory over the Tech Buffaloes on December 2. The Mules fell before the more experienced Jefferson Mustangs in their second game, 46-43.

In the South San Antonio Invitational Tournament, Alamo Heights was impressive in defeating South San, Pleasanton, Central Catholic, and Harlandale in that order before bowing in the finals to San Antonio Tech.

The defending state champions played their first district games the following week and split two tilts. They lost their first game to Kerrville and defeated New Braunfels.

The Mules were the only Class AAA team to reach the semi-finals in the San Antonio Invitational Tournament. They defeated Kingsville and Lanier before bowing to Austin, a team that later reached the State Finals.

Alamo Heights won their next games in district 7-AAA from Victoria, Seguin, Burbank, and Lanier before losing to Edison, 37-34. They finished the first half of their season with a victory over Harlandale.

In the second half, the Mules lost to only Harlandale and Kerrville, as they finished the district race in third place with a record of twelve wins and four losses.

The Heights season's record was 20 wins and only 8 losses, a very successful season.
